

Leading lawyers join Maddocks

Maddocks is celebrating 125 years in 2010 and we continue to look for growth opportunities that will benefit our clients.

It is with great excitement that we announce the appointment of three new partners to the Maddocks Sydney office - Bruce Heddle, Patrick Ibbotson and Chris Kinsella. They each have over 20 years experience in major legal and professional services firms and are all leaders in their field.

These appointments bring Maddocks partner numbers to 56 and more importantly they continue our approach of attracting leading expertise to provide our clients with a compelling value proposition and premium quality service.

Meet our new partners
